

Day / Time	Friday	Saturday
		I. BIOMATERIALS (Nic Pietrobon co-moderator)
08:30 - 10:30	Michele BOVERA Ceramic from a practical point of view: how to choose different materials in every day practice Daniele RONDONI Are all zirconia the same? An analysis of the available products Amélie MANJOT Hybrid ceramics: their place among cad-cam composites and new treatment strategies	Devorah SCHWARTZARAD Presenting cases with a combination of several surgical techniques for maxillary ridge augmentation Diego CAPRI Xenografting to augment the keratinization of periimplant mucosa: fact or fiction? Stavros PELEKANOS Stability of soft and and hard tissue around single implants in the aesthetic zone - Biological and prosthetic considerations
11:00 - 13:00	II. COMPLEX INTERDISCIPLINARY TREATMENT SOLUTIONS	V. MINIMALLY INVASIVE RESTORATIONS
	David DE FRANCO Orthodontic case of a young girl with a Class II Division 1 malocclusion and a horizontally impacted mandibular canine Rafi ROMANO A complicated case to show how treatment is planned via CAD/CAM and how input from the different disciplines can be implemented	John ORLOFF A clinical case of minimally invasive treatment a patient with a fractured lateral incisor. 8 Y follow up. Sanjay SETHI A clinical case involving severe erosion of the upper canine to canine, restored with composite resin restorations Bruno FISSORE A clinical case of a patient affected by bulimia
	III. INTERDISCIPLINARY COMMUNICATION (Nic Pietrobon co-moderator)
	Stefan SCHUNKE Communication between dentist and technician from the point of view of the technician: the importance of a correct positioning on the articulator	